Q19 Which comes closer to your point of view about whether health professionals who have been treating Ebola patients in West Africa, but have no symptoms of Ebola should be quarantined for twenty-one (21) days when they arrive here? (ROTATE)

They should be quarantined until we are absolutely sure they do not develop symptoms later and pose a risk to the public.

They should NOT be quarantined because they have no symptoms and this requirement will make it less likely others will be willing to treat Ebola patients. +*
